Education Board Will Employ New Attorney

Corporation Counsel Dropped in Case For Consolidation Review in Albany

Feeling that Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly cannot "in good conscience" represent the Kingston Board of Education at a hearing on city consolidation before the New York State Commissioner of Education, the board decided Friday night to employ another attorney.

Conspiracy On Reuter Is Denied

Political Tieup Is Ridiculous: Wilson

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock denies that the Reuter Investigations Commission was legislated out of office by a "gigantic conspiracy" between Governor Harriman and Democratic and Republican legislative leaders after former Senator Arthur H. Wick was allegedly implicated in road oil kickbacks through the Reuter investigation.

Commenting on the report, credited to an Albany Democratic leader, that the Reuter commission was legislated out of business by "old line" colleagues of former Senator Wick, Assemblyman Wilson said:

Calls Report Absurd

"Responding to your request for my comments upon the Albany Times Union news story of Friday which in effect alleges that Commissioner Reuter was legislated out of office as the result of a gigantic conspiracy between Governor Harriman and Democratic and Republican legislative leaders, who were sentimentally concerned for the welfare of a former Ulster County legislator, I would simply say that the news story is too ridiculous for serious comment. Politics do on occasion make strange bedfellows but never in my experience has there been such an

Bad Weather Puts Off Mass Parachute Jump

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Bad weather caused a 24-hour postponement in the mass parachute jump planned for dawn in war games here.

Five thousand paratroopers were on hand for the assault. Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, commander of the 101st Airborne Division, had planned to lead the assault by jumping 20 minutes ahead of his men, to test wind and weather for his men.

Five men of the 101st were killed and 155 were injured when they were caught in capricious ground-level winds Wednesday.

On hand for the preliminary jump into the Sukchon drop zone with Westmoreland were Capt. Stillman E. Mazeline of Custer, S. D., his aide, and Capt. Jack Becker of Lakeshire, Miss., a staff officer.

The jump, set for 5:10 a. m. was postponed shortly after daybreak. Nearly 1,400 men of the division's 502nd Battle Group, acting as the invading enemy, flew in from Scott Air Force Base, Ill., and Sewart Air Force Base, Tenn., for the Wednesday jump.

Most of the casualties occurred in the rough terrain of the Sukchon zone, one of many in the remote areas of this sprawling military reservation on the Kentucky-Tennessee line where the current war games are being conducted.

Soviet Backs W. Germans In Nuclear Arms Struggle

BONN, Germany (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan talked with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today after providing ammunition for Adenauer's political opposition in West Germany's hottest issue.

The touring Russian official entered the battle over whether West German troops should be armed with atomic weapons in a Khrushchev-style informal dinner toast last night.

He said in case of war Russia would be prepared to abstain from using nuclear weapons in a West Germany free from such weapons.

The Socialist opposition to Adenauer's government has been campaigning for a ban on atomic armament of German troops.

Mikoyan, Moscow's top foreign trade expert, held a closed conference with Adenauer. The subject of their talks was not announced in advance but diplomatic observers expected it to include Soviet efforts to set up a summit conference and possibly the nuclear armaments question.

Earlier, Mikoyan met briefly with Economic Minister Ludwig

McElroy Is Out to End Rivalries

Rules Promotions Depend on Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy has served notice that generals and admirals who don't work for military unity may as well forget about extra stars and choice assignments.

McElroy ordered yesterday that all future recommendations for promotion of officers to three and four star rank be submitted to him rather than directly to the President. This directive also would apply to recommendations for assignment of officers in those two senior ranks.

Part of Ike's Plan

The order, another move aimed at curbing interservice rivalries, is part of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan. That particular provision, however, didn't require congressional approval.

Under the new procedure, the Joint Chiefs of Staff must express their views on the assignment or promotion of all officers in the two top ranks.

In addition, when civilian secretaries of the three services submit such recommendations they must include a statement that the officer has demonstrated "the capacity for dealing objectively, without extreme service partisanship, with matters of the broadest significance to our national security."

Gives Bigger Voice

The new order also says when service secretaries submit recommendations for promotions to two or three star rank, it must be shown the officer has served "a successful tour" of duty with a unit, combined or allied command.

New Moon Attempt May Come Monday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy expects to make another attempt to launch next week a temperamental Vanguard rocket housing a 20-inch satellite after two setbacks caused by technical problems.

One scientific source said the shot may be tried as early as Monday.

The launching of the three-stage rocket was "scrubbed" early yesterday morning and again last night when faults were discovered in Vanguard's complex mechanism during the crucial preliminary countdown.

It was reported unofficially that the trouble was caused partly by a leak of white fuming nitric acid from the fuel system that propels the second-stage vehicle.

This Vanguard carries a 21½ pound satellite payload shaped like a basketball. The satellite is three times bigger and seven times heavier than the Vanguard I moon now orbiting the globe.

5 Children Die In Erie Blaze

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Five young children perished late Friday night in a fire that swept a crowded two-story frame home in Erie's East End. Two other youngsters were burned, one critically.

Fourteen children under 15 years, the members of four Negro families, were sleeping when the blaze broke out shortly before midnight.

The survivors were dragged out of the inferno by neighbors, some of whom formed a human chain, entered the building and passed

P-TA Council Will Discuss Building 'Package' on Monday

The detailed plans for the proposed "package" building program for the city of Kingston schools will be reviewed and discussed by the members of the P-TA Council at their regular meeting Monday, April 28 at 8 p. m. in Kingston High School Library.

Answers to detailed questions on the "package" plan were prepared by the Board of Education and were in the hands of Council a month ago, but discussion of these plans by Council members was necessarily postponed until now, due to the P-TA Council's work with consolidation.

Council is going ahead with the discussion assuming that regardless of when consolidation takes place, this same "package" would still represent the city of Kingston's school building needs.

These specific questions and answers will give Council members an advanced opportunity to hear and discuss the approximate

Knowland Faces New Labor Test

GOP Leader Plans More Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Facing almost certain defeat, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) fought on today in an effort to write far-reaching labor provisions into a bill aimed at regulating employee welfare and pension funds.

In a session lasting until late last night, Knowland was beaten on four efforts to put what he called "labor bill of rights" provisions into the relatively noncontroversial bill. His amendments were defeated by margins ranging from 16 to 20 votes.

Bias Bar Is Test

But Knowland, the Republican Senate leader, told newsmen he would offer at least six more amendments today.

The first test of the day was due to his proposal to bar any discrimination by a labor union against any worker because of race, sex, nationality, religion or age.

The bill under consideration would require reporting and full disclosure on operations of welfare-pension funds. It would provide criminal penalties for any false reporting or looting of such funds.

Knowland is trying to tack on his "union democracy" amendments, contending this is the only "effective chance" for such legislation this year.

Several other senators also planned to add on various amendments. The Eisenhower administration wants its labor proposals considered, too.

But most Senate Democrats and about 10 Republicans backed Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in opposing any broadening of the welfare-pension fund bill. Sen. Lausche of Ohio was the only Democrat who voted yesterday for the Knowland amendments.

The Democratic-led coalition argued that far-reaching labor proposals should not be considered until hearings have been held and until the proposals have been given detailed study in committee. Democratic leaders promised that hearings will begin next month and that broad labor legislation will be brought to the Senate floor in June.

Admits Slaying Three Relatives Over Money

Recent Inmate Caught by Neighbors After Shooting Lawyer, Two Others

DENVER (AP)—A wealthy lawyer, his wife and daughter were killed Friday night by a ne-re-do-well relative, bent on getting money four days after his release from prison.

David F. Early, 28, was caught by neighbors moments after the rifle shootings climaxed a four-hour reign of terror in the ranch-style home of Merrill A. Knight in swank Greenwood Village. The suburb is 14 miles southeast of downtown Denver.

Knight, 45, former president of the Denver Bar Assn., his wife, Regina, 43, and their 15-year-old daughter Karen died in Early's futile efforts to flee with $187.

Kenneth Knight, 18, son of the lawyer, escaped although Early fired one shot at him.

Early, freed from the Leavenworth, Kan., Federal Prison last Tuesday, was booked at the Arapahoe County jail for investigation of murder. Dist. Atty. Barney O'Kane said he will file charges next week. O'Kane said Early wrote out a brief confession in longhand after dictating a lengthy statement to a shorthand reporter.

'Trouble All His Life'

O'Kane said Early, who described himself as a nephew of Knight's, had served aggravated robbery terms at Leavenworth and Canon City, Colo., prisons. "He's been in trouble all his life," O'Kane said. It was not known immediately whether he was paroled or released from Leavenworth.

This was the sequence of events, told by Sheriff Charles Foster: Early came to Denver after his release from the Kansas prison and registered at the YMCA.

About noon Friday he had a taxicab take him to the Knight residence. No one was home, but he entered through a basement door. He waited about two and a

Big Ave Vote Seen Key For '60 Consideration

ALBANY (AP)—Should Gov. Harriman want another crack at the presidency, the best thing he could do would be to win re-election by a wide margin.

That's the advice Harry Truman gave yesterday when reporters pressed him about Harriman's chances.

The ex-president, who backed Harriman for the Democratic nomination in 1956, said he was going to wait until "after 1958 is past" before discussing presidential candidates for 1960.

But when the Harriman questions persisted, he said:

"The best thing for him to do is to get re-elected governor by an overwhelming majority. Then that'll be the time to talk."

Harriman has said he will seek a second, four-year term in November. Truman said he was sure Harriman would win.

Truman and Harriman met with reporters after participating in an Arbor Day tree-planting on the grounds of the executive mansion. At one point, when a newspaper photographer kept him shoveling earth around a tree while he snapped pictures, Truman grinned and said:

"Why don't you give me that camera and you come around here and shovel?"

Agency Is Result of Apalachin

Four Are Named As Crime Probers

ALBANY (AP)—A new state agency is ready to do battle with organized crime in New York State. Gov. Harriman yesterday signed a Republican bill creating the temporary State Commission of Investigation and, with Republican leaders, announced its membership.

The commission, which will have a $350,000 appropriation for its first year, will come into existence officially May 1. It will replace the Legislature's watchdog committee and the Democratic governor's state investigation commission.

Those Appointed

To it, Harriman appointed Myles Lane of New York City, a former U. S. attorney, and Judge Goodman A. Sarachan of Rochester, a former assistant U. S. attorney and a former justice of the State Supreme Court. Both are Democrats.

Senate Republican Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney appointed Judge John W. Ryan Jr. of Buffalo, chief city judge in Buffalo and a former assistant district attorney of Erie County.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck named Jacob Grumet of New York City, a former assistant U. S. attorney, former assistant district attorney of New York County and a former judge of New York's General Sessions Court. Grumet and Ryan are Republicans.

Pay Is $15,000

The members will be paid $15,000 a year each.

The crime commission stemmed from the gangland meeting at Apalachin last Nov. 14 when 60 mobsters and their associates assembled for what one investigator termed a grand council meeting of the Mafia.

Harriman wound up action yesterday on bills passed by the 1958 Legislature. Of the last 13 bills that came before him, he signed 8 and vetoed 5.

One of the approved measures operated seven more State Supreme Court seats on Long Island, the 10th Judicial District.

The new jurists will be elected in November and take office next January. The district had 13 seats.

Harriman rejected measures that would have mandated pay raises for the supervisory staffs of school districts and that would have given the state comptroller power to supervise the fiscal affairs of New York, Buffalo and Rochester. The bill would have required the cities to file annual fiscal reports with the comptroller and have had the comptroller audit the accounts of all their officers.

U. S. May Renew Pressure On Russia for Open Skies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States was reported today planning to renew pressure on Russia for East-West aerial inspections in the Arctic against surprise attacks.

Usually reliable diplomatic sources said the U.S. delegation will ask soon—possibly today—for a Security Council meeting Tuesday to discuss an inspection resolution.

Aerial inspection of the Arctic was part of a Western disarmament package offered to the Soviet Union last summer in the U.N. Disarmament Commission. Russia turned it down and has refused since then to discuss disarmament in the U.N.

Renewal of the Arctic open skies offer at this time apparently would be the West's answer to Soviet accusations against the United States last week.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged in Moscow April 18 that Arctic flights toward Russia of U.S. bombers with nuclear weapons were provocative and might touch off World War III. A Soviet resolution presented in the Security Council last Monday asked Washington to stop the flights.

American officials denied there was any provocation in its system of practice alerts for bombers and training flights over the Arctic.

After a six-hour Security Council debate in which Russia failed to win any support for its resolution, Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev withdrew it. The Soviet complaint remains on the Council agenda, however.

"I'll tell you. He's the kind of man who runs with the foxes and hunts with the hounds." In other words, he said, Ives took either liberal or conservative viewpoints on issues depending on which stand he thought was politically expedient.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

COLORS OF THE SPIRIT

Our moods make such a difference with our outlook. When we are "sitting on top of the world" things look so different from what they do when we are "down in the dumps." Even a lovely spring day may be an inexpressible ecstasy of delight to one person and a deep, haunting pain to another. It depends upon how one feels; and how kind, or cruel, life has been to us. "Nature," says Emerson, "always wears the colors of the spirit. To a man laboring under calamity, the heat of his own fire hath sadness in it. Then, there is a kind of contempt of the landscape felt by him who has just lost by death a dear friend. The sky is less grand as it shuts down over less worth in the population."

Because the world breaks forth into new beauty does not mean that every heart rejoices. Writes Thomas Stearns Eliot: "April is the cruelest month, breeding Lilies out of dead land, mixing Memory and desire, stirring Dull roots with spring rain."

When spring approached after the death of her first husband, George Eliot wrote to a friend saying, "The world's winter is going, I hope, but my everlasting winter wears the colors of sorrow is never quite as permanently black as she painted it. In the providence of God, streaks of light ultimately begin to show through even the darkest cloud of disappointment or bereavement. 'Time,' as we say, 'is a great healer.' And time, we must always remember, is one of the instruments of God. But, even so, April can be a cruel month. For a soul that has lost its priceless treasure of love there is often an intensification of the heartache as the sunshine warms and the earth gets green and the flowers return. Sometimes losses are italicized by the loveliness and fragrance of an opening blossom; loneliness emphasized by the returning beauty that once we were able to share with another."

Roses lack something when there is an aching void in the heart. Their beauty may be a whip that lashes the memory; their fragrance a reminder that brings pain. After the death of his brother John, Thoreau wrote of the birds: "Since thou art gone They've slower built their nests."

It seemed to him that even the birds did not have quite the same enthusiasm for their nesting project after his brother had been taken from them. It was, of course, all in his mind; for the birds had no knowledge of that grave. Nature was wearing the colors of his spirit. Even bird-song, such a source of delight in life's normalcies, can be an added burden to a heart that weeps.

Baptist Men Will See Ski Film on Wednesday Night

A movie, depicting area ski facilities, will highlight the annual monthly dinner meeting of the Men's Club of First Baptist Church, on Wednesday, April 30. This was announced today by William H. Williams, president, who said that the special program will be preceded by a turkey dinner, served at 6:30 p. m. by ladies of the church. Williams urged men of the church who plan to attend the dinner and meeting to secure their tickets by Sunday from various members of the organization.

Color, Sound Film

The ski film, photographed by Daniel Morehouse, is a 16 mm. color and sound picture, and runs about 25 minutes. An interesting part of the movie, President Williams pointed out, is that local people are subjects. Some of the scenes were taken at area ski facilities as well as in Vermont, New Hampshire and in Canada.

Narration is done by Abram F. Molyneux, local attorney, who has been a ski enthusiast since Wednesday night. Molyneux will talk briefly about the skiing sport. Morehouse, a national ski patrolman, is patrol leader of the Highmount Ski Patrol (Highmount Ski Center), and also is a photographer with the local IBM plant.

Ladies' Night May 28 reported today that plans are progressing for the annual Ladies' Night event, scheduled for Wednesday, May 28, in the church parlors.

Several interesting features are being planned for the night and these will be announced at a future date. One of the features will be two short plays presented through the courtesy of the Coach House Players, Inc.

C. H. Gustafson of P. O. Box 26, Bloomington brought me a photostatic copy of the Saturday April 22, 1865, New York Times which covers the funeral of Lincoln. He says he also owns the Herald Tribune of that vintage and has a Mercury newspaper which is older. Peter and his many descendants lie buried in the cemetery of St. Mark's Church in the Bouwerie, located at Second Avenue and 10th Streets. It was erected in 1660 as a Dutch chapel on the Styvessant Bouwerie, the little church was rebuilt in 1799 and is now part of Trinity Parish.

SET CLOCKS AHEAD

Daylight saving time will go into effect Sunday morning at 2 o'clock. When you retire tonight, set your clock one hour ahead. You will lose an hour's sleep and you will not get it back until the fall when you set your clock back an hour.

The movement for moving clocks ahead during the spring and summer had a difficult time when it was first introduced during World War I, but it has gained in popularity over the years. About half the nation will be on fast time this year.

Objections are still heard in some quarters to tinkering with "God's time." With the drift in recent years toward shorter working hours, it is felt by some that there is little excuse for advancing the clocks. Many farmers still despise it for a number of reasons and mothers say they can't get their small children to go to sleep when it is so light. Operators of railroads and buses and of television and radio stations run into trouble because of differing time practices in some regions.

Before retiring tonight set your clock ahead one hour.

ONE WAY STREET

Amid all the clamor in the past few months for government action to halt the recession, the administration has repeatedly voiced its fear that hasty and excessive measures might well cure the disease but kill the patient.

Far worse than the recession has been so far would be another upward and onward spiral of inflation.

Certain signs seem to indicate that the old bogey of inflation may still be lurking just behind the scenes.

We all know what inflation is, what it does to our pocketbook. In general, however, wage rises have kept fairly even pace with rising prices for most of the population.

But there is another aspect of inflation and the accompanying demands for higher wages—not affecting too many Americans as yet, but a very real threat nevertheless. American workmen, enjoying the highest wages in the world, can be pricing themselves out of the market in the face of rising competition from foreign countries.

This is maintained by Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corporation. In the past, America's lead in technological know-how overcame the disparity between the wages of American workers and those of foreign workers. But now that lead is rapidly being overtaken by other nations, says Mr. Blough. Higher protective tariffs offer no permanent solution, he asserts.

Raising the standard of living is one thing. But raising the cost of production without a corresponding increase in productivity is placing the producer—and the worker—at a competitive disadvantage. Government has a vital obligation, says Blough, to reexamine tax laws which discourage investment and expansion. But the final decision rests with the American workman himself—to keep wage costs in line with productivity.

If not, he warns, "... then I am very afraid that the great St. Lawrence Seaway—when it opens next year—will be nothing more than a one-way street... westbound."

EASY SAFEGUARD

The boys had worked off and on all winter to build their boat. The first really warm day of spring, they launched it in the river. It was a great occasion. Except for one thing: The boat leaked. It was a slow leak, so that the craft didn't sink immediately. Watchers got the police rescue squad there on time.

Those boys were lucky. Many others are not so fortunate. Every spring is marred by tragedies involving the age-old affinity between children and watercraft.

There is no way to absolutely end these heart-wrenching accidents, though adult supervision can do much. Beyond that,

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
BALANCE OF ARMS

What is called peace is being maintained by a balance of arms. But a balance of arms means a constantly increasing and devastating budgetary rise in costs for all countries. No country on Earth can afford its present budget. No people can afford the taxes they have to pay, even in those countries where tax swindling is fashionable.

The current economic depression in the United States is due to two causes:

1. The psychological mass reaction to the high cost of living and high taxes;
2. The decision of large numbers of consumers to postpone buying of what might be called household capital goods, such as automobiles, refrigerators, electrical gadgets, etc., which are out-priced.

Opposition to a tax cut now—with emphasis on now—is that such a cut will not be sufficient to prime the pump of consumer buying and should it succeed in doing that, it would lead to a runaway inflation. These contradictions are often expressed by the same persons who fail to recognize them as contradictions. The Rockefeller Report on this subject is clear-cut and offers a platform upon which a debate can be held and a decision reached.

Congress is independent of the Administration, which, in the present situation, is beneficial to the country because what is most needed is debate, discussion, investigation, understanding. This debate is now taking place and ought to be reported across the country. The people ought to hear it all, because upon two actions that have to be taken by Congress at this session, the future of the country is involved, namely:

1. The Reorganization of Defense;
2. The decision about the tax cut.

The reorganization of the defense is not a new problem that arises in the Eisenhower Administration as a result of the Sputnik, as many believe. It has arisen after each war. For instance, in the Hoover Administration, the problem arose as to how to get rid of the horse. President Hoover regarded the horse as outmoded as a military instrument. But what would generals sit on? It was a long and bitter struggle, until Hoover appointed General MacArthur Chief of Staff, and MacArthur began the mechanization of the cavalry. Now generals do not sit on horses.

Roosevelt had an easy time with atomic fission. It came in wartime and was secret. Nobody knew about it but those who worked on the Manhattan Project and a few Russian spies. The money for it had to be found by secret and diverse ways. While no reorganization was involved, the Manhattan Project crossed departmental lines. Men were used for it who could do the job.

Atomic fission relates itself to the question of Reorganization in two ways:

1. It established a pattern of how a big job can be done while departmental lines are ignored. Had this system been employed in connection with rockets, missiles and satellites, we should not have been caught asleep by the Sputnik.
2. It brought into being a wholly new set of military instruments and techniques which may, and probably has, made conventional warfare obsolete.

Point one above, I think has been established; point two is still in the realm of doubt and discussion. The reason why this subject cannot be treated lightly is that if an error of judgment is made now, it cannot be corrected in time to avert disaster and will only be known should we be defeated in war.

These then are the problems which arise out of the balance of arms which the principal countries are trying to maintain. Amateurs jump to conclusions. For instance, those who believe that the push-button war definitely puts an end to infantry, the Navy and the Marine Corps may be right but they cannot prove their case by facts. Every war, since the Berlin Airlift, and the world had not known a day of peace since then, has been a local war, limited in scope, employing conventional weapons.

In the Korean War, for instance, the United States could have employed, but did not, atomic weapons; in the Indochina wars, no unconventional weapons were used; ditto for the French-Algerian war; ditto for Israel-Egyptian struggles; ditto for the Hungarian uprising. It would therefore seem to be too early to discard the conventional forces and Russia has not discarded them, although Great Britain has reduced her forces now that there is no Empire to defend.

Welfare Dept. Is Kept Busy

Flushing Out Health Quacks

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

The need to protect the public, and some measures which are used in doing so, are beautifully illustrated by a recent release from the Food and Drug Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Constant effort is necessary and the battle is unending.

It was pointed out that court actions against six allegedly worthless medical devices were filed during January, 1958. Two of the devices were cabinets containing low-voltage electrical circuits connected to elaborate dials and controls. Labeling accompanying the devices claimed that one was good for "body areas of congestion, inflammation and irritation," and that the other could be used in the treatment of undulant fever, cancer, tuberculosis, metallic poisons and serious infections.

Another device seized was claimed to be capable of allaying, correcting or preventing disease by "measuring nerve interference."

THREE OTHER devices were seized from a firm that was labeled with allegedly false claims. One was a rubber massage brush claimed to aid poor complexions and degenerative diseases, such as heart conditions, rheumatism, and to strengthen the spine and back.

Another employed colored lights to treat skin inflammations, infections and respiratory disorders. The third consisted of an "infra red" generator seat surrounded by a circular reflecting cabinet. Labeling recommended its use for treating rheumatoid arthritis, diabetes, pneumonia, high blood pressure, goiter and other serious diseases.

In addition to these devices, 13 drug seizures were made during the month on the basis of false and misleading curative claims, failure to meet labeled potency and lack of official clearance for new drugs.

ALSO, 512 tons of contaminated and unfit food were seized in 98 court actions during the same month. The seized food included vegetables containing excessive quantities of DDT, or other pesticides, chili powder containing glass fragments and olive oil contaminated with camphorated oil.

Jail sentences were imposed in two criminal prosecution cases tried in January. One defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to nine months in jail for selling colored oleomargarine labeled as butter.

A one-year sentence was received by an awning salesman who as a side line was selling amphetamine (a stimulating preparation) to truck-stop operators and others not licensed to dispense drugs.

This valuable use of some of our tax money by the Welfare Dept. is often not widely realized.

parents have one simple, effective means of reducing the toll. They can insist that their children never venture afloat without life jackets. It may be a nuisance, but it pays off in lives saved.

This Calls for the Hard Sell

Washington News

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The recent Daughters of the American Revolution meeting here got into such a heated hubbub over eliminating the income tax that one irreverent type recommends that they change the name of their annual convocation from "Continental Congress" to "Continental Rumble." (In case you don't know, "rumble" is the word for juvenile gang battles.)

WHEN HE WAS a young lad, Army Chief of Staff Gen. Maxwell Taylor recalls, he asked his grandfather whether he had been in the cavalry or infantry during the Civil War.

"Well, I started out in the cavalry," General Taylor's grandfather replied. "But when my horse was shot from under me, I suddenly found myself in the infantry."

SHOREHAM HOTEL is billing a charity fund-raising fight scheduled to be held on its famed terrace next month, as the first event of its kind in the exclusive hotel's history.

This may be true for fights where the Marquis of Queensbury rules apply. But veteran party goers remember some real dillies on the Shoreham terrace where there were no holds barred.

For instance, there was the time during World War II when a Chinese officer knocked another down the stairs. Then there was the party where a wealthy society woman found her husband dancing with someone else and walloped the luckless gal with a handbag.

And janitors still get the quivers when they remember the elaborate formal dance where a German police dog knocked over six potted palms while chasing a cat.

FREeloaders voted the baked ham, fried shrimp, hot rolls and French pastries served at a National Rural Electric Cooperative Association party the other night as the best food they have eaten this month. In fact, a late arriver told NRECA General Manager Clyde Ellis that the food was so good he expected to go back for at least three helpings.

"You won't have time before we turn out all the lights to show a movie," Ellis replied. "So why don't you fill up three plates instead?"

That's just what the guest did.

WHEN SOCIALITE Perle Mesta called the Sheraton-Park Hotel to make reservation for her friend, Elizabeth Arden, the other day, she failed to specify that nothing in the room should be green. It seems that Miss Arden, who owns the Main Chance Farm in Phoenix where Mrs. Eisenhower vacationed last month, can't stand the color.

When Miss Arden checked into the suite, she let out a yelp of terror. The entire suite was decorated in green. Finally she settled for a blue one.

Now all Sheraton employees have been alerted to be extra color conscious whenever they have Miss Arden as a guest.

SEN. ALLEN J. ELLENDER (D-La.) reveals that the Russians are even more particular about their tea than the English. He says that on his last trip to the USSR a Russian tea taster told him:

"Good tea must be just like a kiss—hot, powerful and sweet."

CURING THE aches and pains of his colleagues keeps Congressman A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) almost as busy as politicking on the House floor. The good-natured, mid-westerner is one of six representatives who are also licensed physicians.

Other day a friend asked Miller if he prescribed tranquilizers for any congressmen.

"I never do that," Miller answered. "Instead, I suggest they listen to someone read their last speech. If they follow my advice, they usually come right back for something to pep them up."

SOME PEOPLE turn their basements into recreation rooms. Others use the cellar for storing wine. But as far as we know, Lt. Col. D. Ashari, assistant military attaché at the Indonesian embassy, is the first person to turn his basement into a personal art gallery.

He just began painting about a year ago, and since then he has done about 30 pictures, each one better than the last. They cover all the walls of the Ashari cellar with two hanging from the hot water heater.

So far he hasn't sold any. But any prospective buyer who'd like to browse through his basement is welcome to do so, he says.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — A great hullabaloo is being raised about the need for space in our colleges to take care of all our young people of college age. To insist that college education become universal would be to lower our educational standards to the level of mediocrity. In the present world struggle of the survival of the fittest, we need to turn out from our colleges something considerably better than mediocre teachers, scientists, and businessmen. The colleges need something to work with in the first place; the large numbers of purples, immatures, high school graduates who find their way into our colleges have no business there!

Educators Must Set Own Houses in Order

What I am about to say will stir considerable controversy. Frequently I am asked if I do not think the large numbers who flunk out of college do not constitute a great national waste of manpower. The real waste is for colleges to continue to use funds for more buildings to house more and more incompetents who are bound to flunk out; or who, if they don't flunk, will drag down the level of performance. The problem which confronts us is one of intellectual honesty. It begins with secondary school headmasters who, with tongue in cheek, recommend for admission to college individuals whom they must know are not qualified for college.

Many college directors of admissions will tell you, in confidence, that the supply of fitted students is far from abundant. I could give cases in which principals have made parents, pupils, and college officials believe the young people were something they really were not. They got them into college with obviously abstruse recommendations; then left them for the college authorities to flunk out and send home. I am told that a certain prep school guarantees your son's admission to the college of his choice, or your money back. What the school does not guarantee is to keep the son in college!

Parents Must Become Masters in Their Houses

A college education for sons and daughters is eagerly sought

today by many parents more as a mark of social accomplishment than for the learning the degree should represent. One college dean has said this about the attitude of parents whose children flunk: "The amazing reaction many times is: 'But my son just can't flunk; what will the neighbors think?'"

Inferior educational preparation for college, or in college, cannot be cured just by raising teachers' salaries and building new buildings. First, there must be a rekindling of the will to learn—something parents have a lot more to do with than they will admit. Second, colleges must make of education a privilege, not a right. Perhaps Sputnik No. 1 will prove to have been our great educational Pearl Harbor, a jolt into the realization that for self-defense we had better become intellectually honest with one another.

Young People Must Set Up Sound Value Goals

I wish thoughtful young people had more of an opportunity to speak out without fear of incriminating themselves with their teachers. One young man recently wrote a plaintive letter to the editor of a large city newspaper. In it he made a plea to the school committee of that city to stop wasting the time of talented students. He said that good teachers spend too much time with children who do not want to learn. His plea was to throw out the non-learners, to group homogeneously the bright children who want to learn, and to discipline severely those who would make a joke out of school.

Our young people must become very familiar with the fact that the "cold war" is a struggle of intellect. They must know why our schools must raise their standards, from the elementary grades up. Our colleges and universities should hold their admissions standards high, barring those who cannot qualify and flunking those who are looking for a four-year loaf on father. More selective admissions policies and a tightening of standards would find many colleges with much less of a teacher and building shortage problem than they now appear to have. It is not necessarily more money that our schools need.

Fire Burns Acreage At Greentree Park

A brush fire of undetermined origin burned off some acreage in the Greentree Park section near the Eddyville Road this morning, but was brought under control by some 40 volunteers of Bloomington Fire Company, who brought three pieces of apparatus to the scene.

Charles J. Reilly, Bloomington postmaster and company member, who operates a general store in the hamlet, told the Freeman that "a nice little wind was blowing," which made it somewhat more difficult to bring the blaze under control.

The report came to the fire company at 6:50 a. m. No buildings were involved.

Mitchell Urges Speedy Action on Pay for Jobless

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Labor Mitchell says more than 500,000 workers have exhausted their unemployment compensation benefits. He urged speedy enactment of an administration plan for extra payments "so these workers... may have money to live on."

Mitchell's statement was issued Friday as the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security reported that during the week ending April 12 unemployment among insured workers rose that week to a record 8.1 per cent.

Some 43 million workers, about two-thirds of the nation's labor force, are covered by unemployment compensation.

The total of insured unemployment — representing workers on the sidelines at least a week — was about 100,000 bigger in mid-April than in mid-March.

This data indicated that the over-all unemployment total for April probably will be close to the 5,200,000 level of March. Normally at this time of the year unemployment drops sharply as outdoor work picks up.

The Labor Department report also showed that during the week ended April 19 the number of newly laid off workers claiming jobless benefits declined by 15,400 to 446,400. This is a smaller-than-usual decline for this season.

In his statement, Mitchell said the report makes it "all the more urgent for Congress to enact legislation extending the duration of unemployment insurance payments for those who have exhausted their benefits."

Asks 50 PC Extension

The administration has proposed a temporary 50 per cent extension of the period in which eligible workers may draw unemployment benefits. In states which allow 26 weeks of such payments, the Eisenhower plan would mean an additional 13 weeks of benefits.

The Democrats are backing a broader plan which would take in many workers not now covered by the federal-state program. Eisenhower and some members of Congress have said the Democratic plan amounts to a dole.

Of 23 states reporting increases in insured unemployment during the week ended April 12, New York ranked third with a rise of 6,000. Michigan reported an 11,600 increase and Indiana 9,500.

Loud Alarm

Akron, Ohio (AP)—Akron firemen are an accommodating lot. When barbershop proprietor Harold Kiggins couldn't arouse one of his deep-sleeping employees, firemen obligingly rolled one of their trucks into the man's yard and sounded the siren.

World Briefs

HAVANA — Constitutional guarantees were suspended for another 45 days by President Fulgencio Batista and his cabinet early today. The new 45-day period begins at midnight tonight.

This is the sixth time in the last 12 months that Batista has suspended civil liberties to help combat Fidel Castro's rebellion. A separate set of tough decrees aimed at breaking any general strike remained unchanged.

The rebels meanwhile remained in their mountain hideout in eastern Cuba, and only a few minor clashes with troops were reported.

EDMONTON, Alta.

— A 10-mile-long ice jam plugged the Peace River today like a huge bathtub stopper, backing up water 10 feet deep over 500 square miles of northern Alberta bushland.

Four helicopters joined with search planes in a hunt for people who might still be marooned.

COPENHAGEN — Jayne Mansfield says she has now reached the crossroads in her career by getting a movie role as something besides a dumb blonde.

The new movie that will give her some variety is a western, The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw, co-starring British actor Kenneth More.

"I'm playing a night club queen, and this will be my first really dramatic part. I'm quite sure that I'm now at the crossroads of my career," the buxom actress said today when she landed on a flight from Los Angeles.

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius XII suffered a painful finger injury during a special audience to his private physician treated it and said the injury was not serious.

Vatican officials said the Pontiff apparently scraped the finger against some sharp object.

TOKYO — Japan today made another of its requests that the world's nuclear powers stop tests. This request went to Britain, which announced Friday an H-bomb test soon in the South Pacific.

Like the earlier requests, it was expected to be politely ignored. Britain warned shipping out of a 38,000-square-mile area around Christmas Island from today until further notice. The British have tested nuclear weapons there before.

WARSAW, Poland — Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov left by air for Moscow today after a nine-day tour of Poland.

With him went Ekaterina Furtseva, the only woman member of the Soviet Communist Presidium, and a delegation of top Soviet officials.

Voroshilov has been stumping the country saying the next war would mean the end of all humanity—a change in the recent Soviet line that a third world war would ruin the world but make certain a global communist victory.

JAKARTA, Indonesia — The Jakarta government reported today that rebel Premier Sujatmodin Prawiranegara had narrowly escaped capture by its advancing troops and had fled north in Central Sumatra.

BONN, Germany — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir S. Semenov suffered a heart attack today. Soviet Embassy officials said he received medical treatment at the Soviet Embassy.

Semenov accompanied Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan to Bonn Friday for talks with West German officials. Now in his late 50s, he is one of Russia's leading experts on Germany.

Conspiracy

absurd conspiracy as the news story in question insinuates. Needless to say the story was attributed to an anonymous "news source." That type of reporting is simply irresponsible journalism. These are the facts:

Relates Facts

Governor Harriman in his annual message to the legislature on Jan. 8, advocated the abolition of the one-man Commission of Investigation. Democratic Senate Leader Zaretzki and Democratic Assembly Leader Bannigan jointly sponsored a bill to accomplish the same results. Republican legislative leaders merely accepted this Democratic suggestion but went one step further. They enacted a bill providing for a four-man non-partisan crime commission composed of two Republicans and two Democrats. The governor signed that bill on Friday and the 4-man commission has been appointed and will take over Reuter's duties as of May 1.

Factual Statement

"The men appointed to the commission enjoy the highest reputations and will undoubtedly do a good job investigating organized crime."

"Two members of the commission are appointed by the governor, one by the temporary president of the Senate and one by the speaker of the Assembly."

"The foregoing is a factually accurate statement of what transpired. The Albany correspondent responsible for the sensational story you inquired about either does not know the facts or prefers to ignore them."

Augustans End Parley

DELAND, Fla. — The New York Conference of the Augustan Lutheran Church concluded its 88th annual convention yesterday.

There was no election of officers at this year's convention. However, the Women's Missionary Society elected Mrs. J. Theodore Lundquist of New York City as president. The conference also named members to boards, missions and other agencies. Gladys S. Lawson of Jamestown, N. Y., was elected to head the conference social service.

Centerville Fire Call Is Apparent Hoax

Two trucks and some 30 or 40 volunteers of the Centerville Fire Company went on a wild goose chase late Friday night after receiving a call that a certain home was on fire in the Blue Mountain section.

The telephone call reporting a fire at the Schoonmaker farm turned out to be a false alarm. Chief Cornelius Mower told The Freeman that the trucks went to "every Schoonmaker" we knew, thinking there might have been some mistake in the report.

The call came about 10:45 p. m. The chief and his men returned to the Centerville Fire Station some time later—the apparent victims of a cheap hoax.

Discussion of the third part of the "packaged building plans" of the proposed Hasbrouck Park School will include state recommendations regarding downtown schools, the preliminary architectural showing the number and kinds of rooms to be included, the exact location, cost and uses of schools. The Hasbrouck Park school would replace.

The Pentagon's civilian boss a much bigger voice in military promotions and assignments. However, the President still will make the final determination, subject to Senate confirmation.

McElroy issued the directive after concluding four days of testimony before the House Armed Services Committee on Eisenhower's controversial reorganization proposal.

5 Children Die

out the children hand-to-hand.

Det. Sgt. Chester Wiskowski said the fire apparently was started by an overheated kerosene heater.

Wiskowski said the home was occupied by Mrs. Anna Williams, her four daughters and their children. He identified the dead as Marvin, 11 months; Terena, 1; Alphonse, 11; Rosetta, 8, and Sherod, 8 months.

Girl, 3, Is Safe

ROCKLEDGE, Fla. — Three-year-old Judy Peterson was found today, mosquito-bitten but otherwise unharmed, after 12 hours of wandering lost through woods surrounding this east coast community.

A posse of 1,000 men had searched for the child through the warm night, aided by four light airplanes.

Judy was standing in a palmetto thicket only about 300 yards from her home when searchers from Patrick Air Force Base found her.

Every available man was in on the search through tangled orange groves and thick woods surrounding this community on the mainland just southwest of the Air Force Missile Test Center on Cape Canaveral.

Bitten by Dog
Elmer Carney, of 15 Florence Street, reported to police at 5:25 p. m. Friday that his son, Allen, 12, had been bitten by a dog on Stephen Street. Police said the boy, who was bitten about the right hip, was treated by a physician.

Railman Killed

BUFFALO — Percival E. Cundal, an employee of the New York Central Railroad, was injured fatally yesterday in a switching yard. Cundal, 68, apparently was knocked off a freight car by a signal device.

Hyde Park Board Fires Teacher for Letter Writing

Miss Helene A. Golda, a Hyde Park junior high school teacher, was dismissed by the board of education there Friday because she spoke out "to the newspapers" that she was "profoundly disturbed" by some of the board's decisions.

Superintendent of Schools Walter G. Clifford, who announced the dismissal, said it was recommended by him and becomes effective immediately.

He said Miss Golda had submitted a resignation, effective June 30, but that yesterday's action superseded it.

Miss Golda had said in her letter, published this week in a Poughkeepsie newspaper, she decided to speak out as a "person from the inside" in the hopes that qualified voters on May 6 will support candidates who will return "the board of education to the function of being a policy-making organization."

Early brandished a .22 caliber rifle and forced her to her bedroom where he bound her hands and feet. Mrs. Knight told him to get $50 from her purse.

Early wanted more money and decided to await Knight's return from work. Meanwhile, the children, Karen and Kenneth returned from school. Early forced Karen into her bedroom and tied her up, the same as her mother.

Kenneth was also bound with silk stockings in his mother's room, at the foot of

Clogged Gutters Endanger House

Roof gutters clogged by falling leaves can be a potential danger to a house. If water standing in the gutters freezes, it can act as a dam which may cause water to back up under the edge of the roof and leak into the house.

Two safeguards against this are:

1. Keeping gutters clear of leaves and other debris.
2. Properly applied roofing. Recommendations for application of asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing for homes, call for an extra layer of waterproof material under the shingles at the eaves.

This is an "eaves flashing strip" recommended for use in addition to the usual underlayment, metal drip edge and starter course of shingles, wherever there is danger of freezing temperatures creating ice dams along the eaves. When asphalt shingles are then applied according to specifications, the roof will have a long, trouble-free life.

Raised Paneling

Hardwood plywood squares mounted on a furring framework can be used to create the effect of raised paneling, giving added interest to a room. Such an arrangement is most effective above a fireplace or on walls which separate the living room from other areas, according to leading decorators.

Reinforcement Needed

Drawers that have started to come apart at the seams can be made strong again if you reinforce the inside corners with blocks of hardwood glued to the surface of the drawer.

Relaxing and Economic

Home owners find painting actually relieves tension after a full day on the regular job. Furthermore, painting can add as much as 10 or 15 per cent to the value of property.

Glass Doors Made To Slide Easily

Not so long ago the housewife had to be an Amazon or call in the old man for help every time she wanted to open or close a sliding glass door.

Today, with advances in design, tracks, balancing and materials, sliding glass doors and windows can be manipulated by a child.

The president of the Sliding Glass Door and Window Institute, Frank B. Miller, gives these reasons for the easier operation: "The wheels generally are located right under the center load line instead of off to one side. Aluminum allows greater precision engineering than wood or steel, thus giving freer movement. Hardware is better engineered. And weatherstripping made of wool woven pile contributes to finger-tip control."

Damage From Neglect

Damaging moisture frequently invades a structure because of neglect of necessary repairs. Driving rains of rain and the formation of ice dams at the eaves often show up defects in serious proportions.

'The Royal' ... Good Looking With Spacious Rooms

Rooms ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Six
Cubage ..... 26,280 ft.
Dimensions ..... 57' x 26'

The Home of the Week for today is the "Royal," a popular split-level design, modern and compact with eight large rooms. A few months ago Home of the Week architects floor planned this same home under the name of the "Hillary," but so many letters asked for variations of the floor plan, it was re-designed with this alternate floor plan for your consideration. The advantages of a ranch style home combined with the privacy of a two-story home—that sums up the features of this fashionable level.

No Stair Climbing

If you enter from the garage, it's just a few steps to the main level and if you enter from the front door, it is just a few steps to the privacy of the bedrooms. In fact, the distinct but convenient separation of the play room or den, living and dining areas and bedrooms, is one reason split-level homes have been so popular in the past few years.

Living Areas

The "Royal's" living and dining areas are in a convenient T-shape so that you can get maximum floor space in each when the occasion demands. The living room extends across the front of the house for a distance of 23 feet. Its width, approximately half that of the depth of the dining area, is pleasingly proportional. A large fireplace at the end of the living room and picture window offer opportunities for outstanding decorator effects. The entryway closet serves as a barrier to give the illusion of a full hallway. This is a double size closet convenient for the ever increasing outdoor clothing of the growing family.

Illusion of Size

Mirrors make rooms seem larger, and that is why many new homes feature fully-mirrored walls. Mirrors are commonly used over the fireplace. They "open up" a room. If they reflect an outdoor scene, they create the illusion of another picture window.

Tightening Screws

Screws that loosen from motor vibration can be held fast with a dab or two of automotive weatherstripping on the threads. The rubbery compound stays flexible, thus permits removal of the screws, if necessary.

Spacious Kitchen

The work area is L-shaped with the range and counter along the front wall, and the sink, refrigerator, counters and cabinets along the rear wall. There is an exit to the rear yard directly from the kitchen. The kitchen is planned in such a manner as to allow the use of a breakfast set along the side wall.

Formal Dining

For more formal dining, the "Royal" features a dining room measuring 10 x 13 feet.

This adjoins the kitchen at the rear of the house and is also entered from the living room.

The three bedrooms of the "Royal" are located above the garage-recreation level. All are generously proportioned and

Open-Plan Rooms

Furniture manufacturers cater to the American desire for open-plan houses by applying fine finishes to chests, desks, cabinets and sideboards on all sides. Thus, these pieces may stand away from the wall to designated space division. In other instances the pieces may be grouped with related pieces to serve as room dividers.

Stir With Power

How many times have you wished there were a faster way to stir paint than by hand after it has been shelved for a long time? Well, there is—with a paint mixing attachment of a power drill. Home specialists say stirring the "power" way assures fast and properly mixed paints.

When to Paint

The best time to paint your house is before it begins to show that it needs painting. This way the job takes less scraping, sanding and other pre-painting preparation—and likely only one coat will be needed instead of the two coats required for more weather-worn surfaces.

Flower Pots Need Scrubbing

Flower pots, used over and over again when you plant, transplant, or decorate, should be kept trim, scale-free, and clean. They need scrubbing with soapsuds after each use—not just for looks, but for a practical reason.

Dirt residue often contains disease "bugs" or insects that were destroying the previous plant. If this leftover soil isn't sudsed out, they will remain to repollinate the new soil and damage the next plant.

For the sake of beauty and plant hygiene, use a well-sudsed stiff bristled or wire brush when washing the pots. You may have to soak really dirty ones in a pail of hot soapsuds to loosen caked earth or the white film which insecticides sometimes cause on porous clay surfaces. Be sure to rinse several times—if you're doing a whole batch, turn the hose on them. Once the pots are rinsed well, line them up in the sun to air dry.

Even if you're going to paint the pots in gay colors to enliven the kitchen sill, wash them first. This will make the surface smooth, and the paint will dry with a sleek finish.

Chase Danger

Make sure there are lighting fixtures in the bedroom of your new home, the American Home Lighting Institute advises. Good bedroom light helps prevent falls and other accidents. Fixture light is especially important in bedrooms which double as children's playrooms.

Indoor Only

Never use shellac outdoors. It turns white even when used as an undercoat. It has many uses for indoors painting.

No One Tosses Away Antique Furniture

Who would ever think of discarding an antique? No one would toss an old piece away, if they could use it some way.

There still are antiques used for the purpose for which they were made, of course. A Windsor chair or bench may still be used for sitting; a Pennsylvania dower chest is still useful for storing blankets and a butterfly table may be lovely in a number of settings.

A wrought iron bird cage makes an excellent planter for indoor greenery. Iron stove finials, ironstone urns, huge blown glass jars and tote foot tubs may be used for flowers, rhododendron or lemon leaves.

May 22 Deadline To File for War Scholarship Exam

The final date for filing applications for the New York State Regents War Service Scholarship for Veterans examination is May 22, Peter B. Riley, state veterans counselor, and Howard C. Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Agency, reminds eligible veterans.

Application forms may be obtained at the Ulster County Veterans Agency office, 32 Main Street, where information in regard to the scholarships is also available.

Veterans are eligible to apply for a Regents War Service Scholarship if they served in the armed forces of the United States between June 24, 1950 and July 1, 1955, and have an honorable discharge. All must have been a legal resident of New York State at the time of entry into the armed forces and a legal resident of the state at the time of application for scholarship.

Each scholarship entitles the holder to his tuition and fees, but not exceeding $350 a year for four years, for full or part-time study, day or evening, at any approved college, university, business, professional, vocational, technical or trade school in New York State.

These scholarships are awarded on a county basis, each county receiving two scholarships for every assembly district in it.

Scholarships are also available for Advanced Education in teaching and Administration of Nursing and also Professional Education in Medicine and Dentistry.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director of Veterans' Service Agency, and Peter B. Riley, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans' Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Pensions—Disability pay is usually awarded by the armed service concerned to an active duty member in a lump sum upon his discharge from service.

Disability severance pay is granted to service personnel whose line of duty disability renders him unfit for duty but is less than 30 percent in degree, the minimum percentage required for disability retired service pay. This benefit is computed at the rate of two months for each year of active service up to a maximum of twenty-four months pay. Veterans who are awarded compensation payments who have received disability severance pay will have an amount of VA compensation equal to the amount of disability severance pay withheld. Such compensation payments revert to the government. Recovery of VA compensation payments cannot be evaded by allowing any amount of time to elapse between discharge and the date of application for VA compensation. Recovery of disability severance pay by the government actually begins only after compensation has been granted to a veteran.

Civil Service—The U. S. Civil Service Commission recently changed its regulations to permit veterans to personally answer adverse charges made against them by their agencies in dismissal actions, suspensions, etc. Before this ruling was made, a veteran was allowed only to file a written answer to adverse charges made against him. The new ruling does not affect the rights of appeal previously held by veterans. They will continue to have the right to appeal to the U. S. Civil Service Commission should their appeal be denied by the head of their individual agency.

Insurance—A measure which proposes to amend post-service National Service Life Insurance to allow Korean veterans with non-convertible five-year level premium term insurance to convert their insurance and participate in dividends is one of 37 veterans' insurance bills which are being considered by a special subcommittee of the U. S. House of Representatives' Veterans Affairs Committee. Among other legislation now receiving consideration is a bill which would permit former NSLI policyholders to renew NSLI contracts if they can show good health, a measure to permit NSLI policyholders to purchase increased amounts of total disability income benefits from $5 to $10 for each thousand dollars of NSLI in force, and a bill which proposes to modify gratuitous payments of NSLI insurance to dependent parents of servicemen who died early in World War 2 before they took out insurance. Parents under present law must establish dependency in order to qualify for gratuitous insurance. The proposed bill would eliminate such proof of dependency.

Education—A test for the New York State high school equivalency diploma is given periodically throughout the state. Information about these equivalency tests and the dates they are scheduled for this area may be obtained from any high school principal. The high school equivalency diploma which is granted to a successful candidate is considered to be the legal equivalent of a diploma issued by a local high school. Persons who are 21 years of age or over and legal residents of New York State are eligible to take the test for a high school equivalency diploma.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Glamour in Paint

Glamour is added to the chemical coatings used on household equipment by mixing metallic flakes in the finish. Another intriguing chemical coating used industrially is a pearl-like finish made by incorporating pearl essence in the formulation of the finish.

Remove Jewelry

When moving, make sure you remove all jewelry, money, and other valuable papers from drawers. The mover cannot assume responsibility for the safe transport of such items. To be on the safe side, it's a good idea to empty drawers of all contents.

Emphasize the Door

A brightly painted front door—especially if your house has a flagstone patio and terrace—gives a nice touch of emphasis to the entrance area. The same color, repeated in a floral border, will add further charm to the scene.

Glues Differ

Casein glue is more resistant to moisture than animal glue. Plastic resin glue is even more resistant to moisture. But only a glue marked "waterproof" on the container can be used for outdoor purposes.

Central Claims Cuts Could Save $72,000 a Year

ALBANY (AP)—A New York Central official said Friday the railroad could save $72,000 a year on its West shore division by ending four types of passenger service.

William R. Main, director of the Central's passenger service, said these were: Saturday and Sunday trains, holiday service, off-hour trains, and all service north of West Haverstraw.

He testified as the Public Service Commission resumed the Central's third hearing on its application to drop all passenger service on the 142-mile division.

Main said discontinuance of the irregular trains was the "minimum requirement" the Central would consider if the line were not allowed to end all passenger service.

This would leave nine daily passenger trains each way on the West Shore.

Main was cross-examined by James M. Davis Jr., former New Jersey state senator representing two railroad brotherhoods.

Main said the Central was putting two locomotives on some trains that used only one back in 1953 when it first applied for curtailment of passenger service. Two engines are needed, he said, to maintain time schedules and to haul more cars. This has increased engine costs, he testified.

Main also was questioned by William A. Roberts, counsel for Rockland County, Bergen County in New Jersey and 13 Jersey municipalities.

Main declared that the nine-train schedule had been determined from the load carried sufficient to determine public convenience and necessity.

The Central also is applying to New Jersey's Board of Public Utility commissioners for permission to adopt the nine-train schedule.

The Mold Problem

To prevent the growth of mold, add moldicides or fungicides to paint. Mold usually occurs where there is dampness and warmth. Mold spores and threads are somewhat hard to dispossess. Before such surfaces are repainted, they should be washed with alkaline cleaning solutions, flushed well with clean water and allowed to dry.

Homemade Painting Aid

The top flaps of some cardboard cartons make convenient accessories when you're painting. They can be used as trays for both paint and brush. The "tray" makes it easier to move paint and brush from place to place.

Dental Aid Group Elects Officers, Adopts Program

During a recent meeting of the Kingston P-T-A Council Dental Aid Revolving Fund held at No. 3 School, officers were elected and plans for the city-wide project were adopted.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. Geraldine Nathan, chairman; Miss Mary Polhemus, secretary; Mrs. Joseph Hofbauer, treasurer; Mrs. Rita Hand, Mrs. Anna Young and Mrs. Nathan, screening committee; and Mrs. John Devine, publicity.

A pilot study of the Dental Aid revolving fund was conducted at No. 3 School for several months and the committee decided to adopt the same plan, which had proved successful there.

The three-point program which has received the cooperation of the Dental Society is:

1. Cases are to be selected by the principal and school nurse teacher with the aid of the dental hygienist. Selections are based on severity of the dental defects and need of families for help. Cases selected are not cared for by any welfare agency.
2. Parents are contacted by school nurse teacher. Parents are requested to sign a consent slip and contract to repay to the fund in weekly installments whatever they feel they can afford.
3. Parents choose their own dentist.

County's Historic Houses Lure Spring Tourists in New Brochure Available

ALBANY — Historic houses open to tourists in the Catskill area are listed in a new and much-expanded edition of "Houses of History in New York State," a 40-page free booklet issued by the State Department of Commerce today.

Copies may be obtained from the department at 112 State Street, Albany 7.

One of the interesting houses of the area is the Bronck house off Route 9W near Coxsackie. It was built about 1663 by Pieter Jonassen Bronck, son of Jonas Bronck after whom the New York borough was named. The house has two separate sections. The second part was built, legend says, at the time of the widowed Bronck's remarriage.

The Bronck daughters did not take kindly to their stepmother and declared they would not live under the same roof with her. To restore peace in the family their father built them a separate wing of their own.

New Paltz's stone houses on Huguenot Street are featured. The booklet points out that there is no other street in America like Huguenot Street, lined with stone houses the newest of which is 250 years old. Hasbrouck Memorial House, largest in the group, is headquarters for the Huguenot Historical Society which is devoted to preserving the history of the religious group which founded a settlement here in 1692. All the houses here were built between 1692 and 1720 by French Protestant refugees who found a haven in the religious freedom of America. Hasbrouck House is open daily except Monday.

Four miles south of New Paltz, on Route 32, is the Josiah Hasbrouck House, built in 1814 while the owner was a member of Congress. It is now a museum open daily (except Monday).

cluding paintings of John Vanderlyn, distinguished early American artist.

Kingston has a third historic house which welcomes visitors.

The Sudan House is at Main and Wall Streets on the site of the original entrance to the first stockaded village built here.

The house was built about 1795 and is in the federal style. Martin Van Buren, Washington Irving and other early 19th century notables were frequent visitors here. The house is open daily except Sunday.

On Main Street in Hurley is the Van Deusen House. For a short time in 1777, when the New York Legislature was fleeing from the advancing British army, the house served as the temporary capitol. An interesting feature is a secret room where documents were hidden. The house may be visited by arrangements with the owner, Miss Ruth C. Waterbury, Box 29, Hurley.

Eighty-three other historic houses in all parts of the state are also described in the booklet.

BUFFALO (AP)—James Dittmars, 15, died last night after an operation to close a defective heart valve. Twelve persons had traveled from Ithaca to donate blood from him.

The boy had been brought from his home in Trumansburg, near Ithaca, to undergo surgery at Children's Hospital.

The donors were selected after an appeal by the Red Cross in Ithaca brought 300 replies from Tompkins and Cortland counties. Because the operation required type A blood less than two hours old, they came to Buffalo by chartered bus yesterday.

Police said the circus employee, Robert Healey, 35, of Boston, was surprised in another man's apartment by police called to investigate a disturbance Thursday.

Patrolman Amedeo Lisi testified at a hearing yesterday that he fired when Healey lunged at him with a leather belt after being ordered to come out with his hands up.

Anthony Crull, 81, in whose apartment the shooting occurred, testified that Healey entered early Thursday and threatened to kill him.

Dr. Evan Tansley, Wayne County coroner, issued the justifiable homicide verdict.

Paltz College News in Brief

Exhibit Opens Sunday

An exhibit of drawings and paintings by Paul Burlin, distinguished visiting artist at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, opens Sunday, in the College Union Building galleries with a reception for the artist. Burlin will be present Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. to meet the faculty, students and guests.

The paintings that will be on exhibit were recently shown at the Pointexter Gallery, New York, where Mr. Burlin had a one-man exhibit.

An honor that few artists can claim came to Burlin early in his career when he was included in the famous Armory Show of 1913. This exhibition introduced Americans to the Modern European artists and included such controversial works as the "Nude Descending the Stairs" by Duchamp, and paintings by Matisse, Braque and Picasso.

Burlin was one of the first New York painters to move to the Southwest. He lived in Santa Fe for eight years when that New Mexico town was the mecca for important artists. During the 1920's and early 30's, Burlin lived and painted in Paris. In 1933 he returned to New York to live and has been a summer resident of Woodstock for 20 years.

He has been one of America's prominent painters since his early debut in 1913 and has exhibited his work at all of the important national and international exhibitions, including the Venice International, the Pittsburgh International, the London Tri-National. His work is represented in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the Whitney Museum of American Art, the Newark Museum, the Brooklyn Museum, and numerous smaller museums and university collections throughout the country.

Mr. Burlin is recognized as a stimulating teacher and has a long list of successful appointments at American colleges and universities as visiting artist. He has instructed on the campuses of the universities of Minnesota, Colorado, Wyoming, Southern California, and for five years held a post as Professor of Art at Washington University, St. Louis. In 1954 he was the John Hay Whitney Foundation visiting professor at Union College, Schenectady.

During the current semester Burlin is teaching the advanced painting class at the State University Teachers College. The exhibit of his drawings and paintings will continue in the CUB gallery until May 11. The paintings are loaned through the courtesy of the Pointexter Gallery, New York.

Registration Monday

Registration for the Campus School, State University Teachers College, New Paltz, for the school year 1958-59 will be held April 28 through May 2, in the Office of the Principal. All children, kindergarten through ninth grade who are not attending the Campus School this year but who wish to attend next year, should be registered at this time.

Early registration, according to Edward Klotzberger, principal, is desirable because class size will be limited. Names will be considered for admission in order of registration. Students living in the New Paltz School District will be admitted on a tuition-free basis, and their transportation will be furnished. Students living outside of the New Paltz School District will also be considered for admission on a tuition-free basis but arrangements for transportation must be taken care of by the parents.

The limited enrollment will make it possible for the Campus School to continue its policy of giving individual attention to each student in accordance with his or her capacity.

The junior high school division will offer a program consisting of language arts, social studies, science, mathematics, art, music, industrial arts, home economics, French and physical education for the seventh and eighth grades. For the ninth grade, the program will include English, social studies, science, physical education and a choice of algebra or general mathematics and French or industrial arts as required subjects.

The junior high program will be enriched by giving each student an opportunity to participate in the following activities on a club basis: Home economics, Chorus, industrial arts, varsity, dramatics, social service, radio, library, arts and crafts, science, band, orchestra, French, newspaper, social and folk dancing.

Science Open House

Dr. Richard M. Sutton, Professor of Physics at Case Institute of Technology, will be the main speaker for the Science Open House at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, May 8 to 10, according to Dr. Donald S. Allen, chairman of the Natural Science Division.

This is one of numerous activities scheduled for the week of May 4-11 at the College which is a part of a state-wide celebration in which all of the state agencies will open their doors to the public. This also coincides with the 10th anniversary of the State University of New York, which serves more than 50,000 full-time and part-time students with its 42 colleges. Nearly 1,000 high school junior and senior students from the mid-Hudson area have been invited to the campus Thursday and Friday, to hear Dr. Sutton, and to see some 100 science exhibits prepared by college students. Included among the exhibits will be displays on astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, meteorology, physics, and science education.

Dr. Sutton will present an address "Learning From Experiment," Thursday, May 8, at 1 p. m., and he will repeat the address at 1 p. m. Friday, May 9.

Two other lecturers who are scheduled for Friday, May 9 at 7:30 p. m. are: S. Hall Shackleton, consultant, President's Committee on Scientists and Engineers, who will speak on "Careers in Science," and Raymond Kenyon, associate professor of Education, New Paltz, whose topic will be "Rockets, Jets and Missiles." Saturday, May 10, 10 a. m., Dr. Heinz Meng, associate professor of biology, New Paltz, will present an address, "Birds of Prey."

Dr. Allen emphasized that the science exhibits will be of particular interest to children, and he urged parents in this area to bring their sons and daughters to see the large array of displays.

Kingston High Batters Arlington; Saugerties Zips Beacon, 9-0

Hobie Homers, Gardner Hurls Maroons 10-6 Win

Paced by Hobie Armstrong's first inning homer and timely hitting by Chick Boice and Paul Gardner, Kingston High racked up its first win of the campaign yesterday against Arlington 10-6 on the latter's field.

The Maroons combed two of Fritz Jordan's hurlers for 12 hits and a five-run second inning in a real slugfest which was heartening to Coach Al Gruner who had expressed some doubt as to his charges' hitting ability. The win evened the Maroons record to 1 and 1.

But his sophomore and junior dominated club eliminated some of that pessimism with timely hitting and an excellent defense.

Good Defense
A fine relay from Don Krueger to Frank Sammons on a ball which Armstrong lost in the sun averted what could have been a big Arlington rally in the final frame. Krueger's throw cut down Art Bloomer at the plate on a nice tag by Sammons for the second out.

Armstrong's opening inning round-tripper shook up Paul Anderson, the Indians' good looking left hander, who showed a world of stuff although his curve ball hanged long enough for Maroons to meet it squarely.

Boice Sparks
Three hits, one a ringing double by Boice sparked the five-run second frame which gave Gardner a good cushion to work on. He needed it, too, as the Indians came roaring back with singletons in the second and third and three more in the fourth to cut the locals' lead to 6-4.

Tom Harand started the ball rolling for the Jordanmen with a home run down the left field line in the second. A couple of free passes, Dickinson's double and a one-base knock by Thorne provided Arlington with three tallies in the fourth.

Boost Lead
The Maroons increased its lead with a brace of runs in the fifth and another in the sixth. Coach Gruner derided Gardner in the sixth in favor of Bill McDermott. The reliever did a good job, setting three down on strikes. He jammed the bases in the final frame, but got out of it with a lone run with the help of Krueger and Sammons.

Dick Elliott, Barry Wolven Toss 3-Hitter

Saugerties High pitchers racked up their second straight shutout yesterday as Dick Elliott and Barry Wolven tossed a three-hitter between them in routing Beacon High 9 to 0 in the Dutchess County Baseball League opener for both schools at Saugerties.

The Sawyers, who blanked Kingston High in its opener, got airtight twirling from the No. 2 and No. 3 members of Coach Bill Straub's capable pitching staff.

Wolven Winner
Elliott worked the first three innings and gave up two of the three hits the Dutchess County squad had. The other came in the sixth off Wolven, the winning hurler.

The Sawyers clinched the contest in the opening frame when a combination of four hits and four wild pitches by Bill Sanford, the loser, went for four runs.

Shelled in 1st
Sanford was relieved in the second by Tom Wolfe, who was hit for five hits, a single run in the third and a pair of tallies in the fourth and sixth innings.

Tight Defense
Backed by a strong defense, the Sawyers' pitchers were rewarded with errorless ball and the only real threat to the shut-out was in the third when Tighe reached third base after he had opened the frame with a single.

He advanced on an infield out but was held to third on a single by Wolfe.

George Neher and Bob Whitaker socked doubles, the only extra base hits of the game.

The Sawyers are at home three times next week. They play Windham-Ashland-Jewett Monday; Wappingers Falls on Tuesday and Arlington Friday.

AND JUSTLY SO

But don't forget it's also true.
Someone may crown you if you do.

One of the milkman's regular customers complained to him one day that the quality of the milk lately didn't seem up to par.

Milkman--That's because of the time of the year. We are unable to send the cows out to graze in this cold weather, and since they can't eat green grass they can't produce milk as rich as they do in the summer. But, believe me, madam, they are just as sorry they can't give you rich milk as I am. Why do you know, I went out to milk them just this morning and they were all crying because they realized their milk was so thin.

Woman--That's all very well, but I wish you would see to it that the tears don't drop into the milk can.

A lawyer defending a handsome young woman charged with larceny, closed his appeal to the jury thus: "Gentlemen, you may have heard the ocean on a grapevine to dry, lasso an avalanche, pin a napkin to the mouth of a volcano, skim the clouds from the sky with a teaspoon, paste 'To let' on the moon and stars, but never for a moment delude yourselves with the idea that this charming girl is guilty of the charge preferred against her."

The jury acquitted her without leaving their seats.

Farmer--I educated one of my boys to be a doctor and the other to be a lawyer.

Visitor--You should be very proud of them. That seems like an excellent arrangement.

Farmer--I don't know about that. It looks as how it was going to break up the family. I got run into by a locomotive, and one of 'em wants to cure me, and 'tother one wants me to go lame so's he can sue for damages.

When a man imagines, even after years of perfection, that he has attained perfection, his decline begins.--Theodore Martin

Girl--What's your opinion of these women who imitate me?
Boy--They're idiots.
Girl--Then the imitation is successful.

An Irishwoman back from Wales reports that whenever the through train stops at Llanfairpwllgwyngil, the guards simply call out: "If anybody's getting out here, this is it."

Advice is like snow; the softer it falls, the longer it dwells upon, and the deeper it sinks into the mind.--Coleridge

Both the photographer and the mother failed to make the restless little four-year-old sit still long enough to have her picture taken. Finally the photographer suggested that "the little darling" might be quiet if her mother would leave the room for a few minutes. During her absence the picture was successfully taken. On the way home the mother asked:

Mother--What did the nice man say to make Mother's little darling sit so still?

Jaycees Holding Campaign Against Littering Roads

The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce will participate in a state-wide project Sunday to eliminate paper and trash from the highways and other areas used by motorists.

Members of the local Jaycees will distribute litterbags at the Thruway Restaurant on the Ruby section of the state superhighway.

Last week Governor Averell Harriman signed a bill transferring anti-littering provisions from the penal law to the vehicle and traffic law, with these penalties:

First conviction $50 fine and 15 days in jail.

Second offense within 18 months $100 fine and 45 days in jail.

Third offense within 18 months $250 fine and 90 days in jail.

Jaycees in various sectors will hand out litterbags all along the Thruway, with reminders that it costs the state over a million dollars a year to pick up papers, bottles, garbage and other refuse along state roadsides.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Economy, Slow Upturn Seen

A review of the present economy and a glance into the future of business was the subject of an address by S. Whitney Bradley, investment counsel of Boston, Mass., at the weekly meeting of the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Termining his business as the "management of money," the speaker explained that "it is an effort to make the business of investing safer and more productive." Statistics of the last 10 years were portrayed as "startling changes" which have direct bearing on the present economy. These included the death of 15 million people, the marriages totaling 18 million, the birth of 37 million babies, the formation of over 32 per cent of the population into families, over 70 per cent of the people who do not remember World War I, 47 per cent not remembering conditions prior to World War II, 40 per cent not having heard of Russia being referred to as anything but an adversary, and 55 per cent not having a personal recollection of a major depression.

Objectives and qualifications of an investment counsel must include adherence to such facts as presented in the preceding paragraph, according to Mr. Whitney. "They endeavor to apply knowledge, judgment, and decisiveness in action. The whole viewpoint is based on the obvious fact that any investment when made is an investment in the future."

Sees Slow Upturn

In referring to the present economy, the speaker pictured 1958 as "not a good year," but followed this with the assertion that "we have just about had it," and it now "looks like a slow upturn." Psychology and over-expansion in capital goods "built up too far ahead," were given as reasons for the present recession.

The future of business was good, according to the speaker, but he indicated that the upswing from the recession would probably be a slow process. Reasons for this upswing included the increases in pension and profit-sharing plans, the expansion of the investment company industry, and the placing in action of "static dollars."

Mr. Whitney closed his remarks with some suggestions for the individual's economy. These included the investigation of tax-free gifts for children, the making of a will, the utilization of professional management for money, the thought of an inventory of personal assets on a yearly basis, the enlargement of one's investment reading, the avoidance of investments on tips, and the general rule of a comparison of records.

Members Honored
Two members of the Kiwanis Club were honored by the organization for their service records.

Harry Halverson was awarded a 30-year service certificate and Herbert DeKay received a 25-year certificate. President George L. Silkworth made the awards.

Cardinal Is Stricken

ROME (U) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago, was rushed to a surgeon's private clinic today, suffering from a circulatory ailment of his right arm. A high source close to Vatican authorities said the 70-year-old cardinal might have to be operated on today. This source said it was feared gangrene might be beginning. Amputation was a possibility, the source said.

The cardinal's American doctors were summoned and any required surgery might await their arrival, another source said. He was in the clinic of Dr. Pietro Valdini, one of Europe's top surgeons who twice has operated on Italian Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti.

List Was Wrong

BALTIMORE (U) — Somebody goofed at the spelling bee—and it wasn't only the losing contestants.

Part way through the Sunpapers contest it was discovered the word list being used contained at least four misspelled words.

Young Stephen Nichols spelled "ophthalmologist" correctly but was called down on the basis of the incorrect list. It showed the word began "ophth—" etc. When the error was discovered Stephen was reinstated and went on to win the Baltimore County title.

SHRINE SHOW AND DANCE—The Ulster County Shrine Club will hold its annual show and dance Monday night, April 28, at municipal auditorium. One of the featured acts on the program of entertainment will be The Harmonica Rogues in "All the Name Implies." There will be five superb acts direct from the New York theatrical circuit. Following the program there will be dancing to music furnished by Harry Maisenhelder's Orchestra. The entire proceeds from this annual social event will be devoted to furthering the work of the Children's Home on East Chester Street. Because of the dual purpose of supporting a very worthy cause and enjoying a delightful evening, record attendances are attracted each year to this event. Tickets may be purchased at the door Monday evening. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Esopus Seminary Granted Regents Five-Year Charter

Mount St. Alphonsus Seminary of Esopus received a provisional charter valid for five years from the New York State Board of Regents at its meeting Friday at Albany.

Action on other charter grants was taken on schools throughout the state.

The board acted favorably at its meeting on three bond issues totaling $6,958,500 for constructing and equipping school buildings, acquiring school sites and purchasing school buses.

According to local finance law, the Regents must approve propositions for bond issues for school improvements in districts where the cost would bring the bonded indebtedness above 10 per cent of the district's real property value.

No local school districts were reported in the approved issues.

What Time Is It?

Kentuckians May Have Trouble in Answering That

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—Kentucky will have four time standards tomorrow: central daylight, central standard, eastern standard and—backwards standard.

The latter is the innovation of music studio operator Jerry Diggins. It's his tongue-in-cheek answer to the number of time standards in the state.

The clock, hanging on front of his studio, runs custom-made and has the numbers painted in that order. But it's accurate, even if confusing, Diggins says.

A state law effective June 19 bans daylight time. Some cities will observe it until then. Others will stay on central standard. Extreme northern and eastern Kentucky is on eastern standard.

Police Take Over

LYNBROOK, N.Y. (U)—Chinese laundryman William Lee disappeared from his shop six weeks ago, gumming up the clean shirt and linen supply of many customers.

So finally the police went into the laundry business, posting a sign: "Police will distribute laundry Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Officers distributed shirts and other articles. They accepted no payment, keeping a record in case Lee returns."

Soda Machine Entered

Louis Nardi of the Cities Service Station, Albany and Foxhall Avenues, reported to police at 7:25 a. m. today that some time during the night a soda machine had been opened apparently by the use of a key as there were no pry marks on the machine. Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Thomas Kearney, who investigated, reported there was about $1.50 in change in the coin box of the machine and the coin box was missing.

Had Girl on Lap

RUPERT, Idaho (U)—Richard Loosli of Paul, Idaho, paid a $15 fine yesterday when he appeared before Police Judge George Radford, charged with driving with an obstructed view. Police officer Curtis Stevens testified Loosli was driving with a girl on his lap.

Truman Is Off For Seaway Tour

ALBANY (U)—Harry Truman, a new honorary doctorate of law in his pocket, takes off today for a look at the mighty St. Lawrence Seaway.

The 73-year-old ex-president also will tour the St. Lawrence power project as a guest of the State Power Authority.

Truman and Republican Herbert Hoover, the nation's only living ex-presidents, were awarded honorary degrees last night at the 89th convocation of the University of the State of New York.

The degree for Hoover was presented to his son Allan. Hoover, 83, is in a New York City hospital recovering from a gall bladder operation.

The citation for Truman described the peppery Democrat as "pungently American." His election in 1948, the citation read, was an endorsement of "his vigorous support for the Fair Deal, his stand on civil rights and (a demonstration of) deep affection of the people of the United States for the man."

Hoover was honored as the president who "faced the worst depression in the nation's history" and "met with courage a test unique in the long history of the American presidency."

Honorary degrees also went to philosopher Jacques Maritain and William J. Wallin, chancellor emeritus of the State Board of Regents.

Charge Two Inmates With Aiding Escape

BAY MINETTE, Ala. (U)—Two prisoners at Baldwin County jail are charged with helping a 25-year-old soldier escape from the jail.

The soldier, Henry A. Queor Jr., from Winthrop, N. Y., was tracked down by bloodhounds about an hour after he escaped Thursday night. Queor is charged with murder.

Yesterday, Queor was charged with escape and Paul McAfee, 34, of Waverly, N. Y., and Harold Long, 17, of Mobile, were charged with assisting him.

McAfee is being held for a grand jury in the $104 holdup of a service station April 9. Long has been sentenced to 10 years for robbery.

Sheriff Taylor Wilkins said that Queor apparently picked the lock of his cell with a coat-hanger wire. McAfee and Long diverted the jailer, the sheriff said, by throwing a bottle at him and trying to grab him. Queor fled during the confusion.

Queor, a private, is awaiting grand jury action in the slaying of Mrs. Pauline Penny of Norfolk, Va., a 40-year-old practical nurse.

Civil Service Group To Elect Officers

Election of officers will be held at the meeting of Ulster Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association Monday at 74 John Street in the county office building.

Refreshments will be served and a social hour will follow.

Just for His Tensions

LOS ANGELES (U)—William F. Spicer, 26, was sentenced to 10 to 40 years in prison yesterday after pleading guilty to burglarizing churches and a warehouse. His explanation: "I don't always need the money. These burglaries ease my tensions. I sleep like a baby afterward."

Frauds Bill Veto Hits Consumers

The cause of consumer protection has been completely disregarded and dealt a sharp blow by Governor Harriman in his veto of a bill to provide funds for the Division of Consumer Frauds and Protection of the Department of Law, Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz charged today.

"By his veto of the measure which would have appropriated $25,000 to provide an adequate staff to process and prosecute consumer frauds, the Governor has revealed his policy of paying mere lip service to the needs of the consumer who is victimized of millions of dollars annually by fraudulent practices," the Attorney General said.

Termed Duplicative
"The Governor, in his message vetoing the bill, says that the Division of Consumer Frauds and Protection which I established in the Department of Law is duplicative of the functions of the State Banking Department and his Consumer Counsel. This is not the fact."

"It is true that the Banking Department has been authorized to investigate complaints relating to installment credit. But, my duties and responsibilities to protect the consumer against fraudulent practices is expressly conferred and defined by statute and I am acting under this authority to ferret out and prosecute the perpetrators of consumer frauds of every description, not necessarily those connected with installment sales."

Governor Harriman's consumer counsel has no authority to investigate or prosecute consumer frauds. The duties of the counsel are advisory.
"Perhaps the Governor has forgotten his own statement, made shortly after I announced my intention to establish the consumer frauds division. He was quoted in the press as saying: 'There is plenty of room for everyone in this work.'"

Dr. Holcomb Will Represent Local Group at Parley

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., a representative director on the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, will represent the Ulster County TB and Health Association at a statewide voluntary health agency gathering at the Hotel Biltmore, New York City, April 28-29.

Dr. Holcomb will preside at the Tuesday morning session on Medical Education and Research in Chest Diseases.

List Speakers

Speakers at this session will be: M. Henry Williams, MD, director, Cardiorespiratory Laboratory, Grasslands Hospital; Frederic Beck, MD, director, Ray Brook State Tuberculosis Hospital; Francis S. Caliva, MD, assistant professor of Medicine, State University of New York Up-State Medical Center, Syracuse; Theodore Noehren, MD, associate, Department of Medicine, University of Buffalo, School of Medicine; Paul N. Yu, MD, assistant professor of Medicine, University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry; Allan Stranahan, MD, head, Department of Thoracic Surgery, Albany Hospital.

Doctor Holcomb will attend the business session for elected representative directors Tuesday afternoon.

Research accomplishments, needs and future promise in diseases of the chest will be the principal theme of the two-day conference conducted by the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health.

Featured luncheon speakers will be Dr. James A. Shannon, director, National Institutes of Health, Washington, D. C. and Dr. George D. Stoddard of New York University.

Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz will attend medical session and Miss Rose Marie Feeney, Miss Almena Porter and Miss Katherine M. Murphy will attend Tuesday's sessions of the conference.

Following the conference, Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director of the local association will attend a meeting of New York State conference of TB and heart workers.

Church Fire Scare Is Burning Leaves

Firemen were called at 1:54 p. m. Friday when it was reported that there was a faint odor of smoke in St. James Methodist Church, 230 Fair Street.

No fire was discovered after a thorough check of the church, and it was determined that smoke from burning leaves near the church had entered the building through a ventilating fan in the window of the church kitchen. The leaves fire was extinguished by firemen. Engine 3 and Truck 2 from Wiltwyck Station responded.

A call at 3:38 a. m. today was a false alarm from Box 2251 at East Strand and Abruyn Street.

Judge Was Witness

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (U)—"I saw the accident," said Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis.

With that, Lewis yesterday dismissed charges of negligent collision and driving while intoxicated against Henry Bailey, 34, a Negro.

The judge said, "clearly the driver of the other vehicle was in the wrong by failing to yield the right of way."
The other driver involved, a white man, was not arrested. Officers said they are trying to find out who he is.

Strictly

Independent!

In a nutshell, here's what that means when applied to an insurance agent.

It means that he represents not one company, but many, and is free to place your business where it is best for you.

An independent agent is not a full time, salaried employee who sells insurance and helps settle claims in but one company. Representing many on a commission basis only, the first loyalty of an independent agent is to a client...you...when it comes to the settlement of a claim.

For the best insurance service that money can buy, choose an agent who is strictly independent. That's us!
